Mrs. Lewis Davis entertained some of her lady friends with a quilting, one day last week.

Mr. Chas. Hedge, of Middle Fork, was a visitor of this place, Tuesday.

Mr. James Bigham was visiting his parents, of this place, Sunday.

"The night was dark,
The sky was blue,
The maiden told him to skidoo."

BLUE BELLS

Calico Ridge

March is here with all its variations of weather, and we are enjoying it too.

The farmers are planning their spring work and performing it.

Some plowing is done for the spring crops.

The sale at Rube Shaw's was largely attended last week.

Henry Clark's family have all been sick with the gripe, but are getting better at this time.

School will close on the ridge the 23rd of the present month, an interesting time is anticipated.

Born to George Wyskiver and wife, February 21st, a daughter.

Wesley Snider is working at the Kerlin brick plant.

Lewis Rodman is still cutting saw-logs.

Cecil Shultz's family is suffering with the gripe.

Cedar Grove

Mr. A. C. Linn, of this place, is afflicted with cancer of the head.

Mr. Noah McCown, wife and daughter, Clara, of Pine Valley, visited H. A. Gordon and family last Sunday.

D. C. Walker, of No. 5, was in our village last Monday.

Mrs. Minnie Gordon was the guest of Mrs. Mary Linn last Tuesday.

Mr. Joe Vest is in the employ of Jacob Bainter & Co.

Mr. Jim Iles is working for Pleukharp & Co.

Herbert Lacey visited Mr. Noah McCown, of Pine Grove, last Saturday.

Say that dove that sang so long at St. John in announcing weddings had had luck the last time it sang. It has changed localities and is now singing in a lane near Smoek. Clarence Griffith of that place says that Caleb Davis is trying to kill the dove.

Walnut Valley

All the people around this community have had their share of la grippe.

Old Mr. Bishop, who has been confined to the house for the past three weeks, is getting better at this writing.

Carbonhill

Did you notice that Mr. Geo. H. Perkins returned $48,500 of the people's money to the insurance company that was donated to the Roosevelt campaign fund? Now the proper thing to do, is for Mr. Bliss and Mr. Cartelou to return the remainder and acknowledge that Mr. A. B. Parker told the truth when he made the charge to that effect during the 1904 campaign.

Mr. John Tom attended the funeral of his aunt in Green Township, last Monday.

Mesdames. Isaac Blosser, and Thomas B. Parry were shopping in Straitsville, last Saturday.

Mr. John Griffiths had business in Columbus, last Thursday.

Mrs. John Kennedy was in Nelsonville, last Thursday.

Mrs. James Loomis, of Union Furnace, in company with son,

Mr. Elmer Bay, of Nelsonville, spent last Saturday with Mr. C. W. Bay, of this place.

Mr. Ben Bailey was in Nelsonville, last Thursday.

Mrs. Wm. Griffith, from Luh rig, was visiting here several days last week.

Mrs. Ben Davis, from Long-streth, was here last Thursday.

Miss Grace Imboden returned here last Monday, after spending several days with her parents in Marion Township.

Mr. I. W. France and Pete Dawley, from Sand Run, were seen here last Saturday evening.

Messrs. Chas. Matheny and Grover Francis, were seen in Murray City, last Saturday.

Last Saturday, while our town folks were going ahead with their regular routine of business, the sad intelligence came, announcing the death of Mrs. Hedly Lowes, of this place. The shock came almost like a bolt of lightning from the clear sky, for her sickness was not even so much as thought dangerous, until a few hours before her death.

She leaves a husband, and 4 small children, the youngest only a few hours old at the time of her death. Mr. Lowes has the sympathy of the entire community in his sad affliction, but human sympathy is too weak and frail to do much good. Strong men would pass each other on the streets and just bid the time of day and pass on with bowed heads. The affair seemed too sad to think or to talk about without bursting into tears. The question has been asked; What is home without mother? The answer comes an empty space, and another says, the sweetest words known to the human tongue, is, Mother, Home and Heaven. Take away mother and home, and the hope of heaven this world, would be an empty space. Man would be like a ship without a rudder, or like a sailor without a compass, he would be left to wander up and down the earth without aim in view. Give me mother, home and the hope of heaven, and let the world have all that belongs to it, but I may be getting my subject, but Mrs. Lowes is dead, her husband is left with 4 small children, and all that can be done, is for kind hands to tenderly lay her away, and wait for the general resurrection. We do not know at this writing when the funeral will be, or by whom conducted.

I don't want to take to much space, but a few weeks ago the Sand Run scribe to the Hocking REPUBLICAN, requested me to give my opinion of Thaw and White, and put it in poetry. In the first place, I wish to say I hav'nt much use for either, and think it is a case of two bad men getting in with a bad woman, and as the case usually is, the wages of sin is death. I will conclude by saying:

I believe if I were Thaw,
And White would wrong my wife,
I would never look for love,
But take his wretched life.
Any man would do the same,
That had any respect for his wife,
And they should not be blamed,
For taking his wretched life.
While White was a bad man,
Thaw isn't any better,
They both were after Evelyn's hand,
And White was about to get her.
I think Thaw is a sporting man,
And has a "charming" wife,
And White tried to get the upper hand,
And Thaw took his brutish life.

I have no use for Harry Thaw,
Or any one that will take life,
I have no use for any law
That would not protect a man and wife.
Now I turn to Stanford White,
To tell you what I think,
I think his heart was black as night,
And his soul as black as ink.
I believe that Thaw served him right,
When he took his worthless life,
While White was prowling in the night,
And flirting with his wife.
I believe if I had been White,
And had no pure girls to blight,
I would want my life to quickly end.
For blighting life of pure girls,
Seems to be his heart's delight.
We leave you bones and diamonds and pearls
There to bleach till they are "white".
Farewell Thaw and farewell White,
I leave you both together,
And Evelyn may go there too,
For all are birds of the same feather.

Clear Creek

Moss Woltz, Boyd Troxel and Jake Smith, three worse old rogues can not be found, believe me friends this is no myth, they should be chased far out of town.

Now Moss is shrewd and full of tricks,
He "skins 'em" all around
And has no mercy on those he "sticks,"
Let's chase him out of town.

Then comes Boyd with his winning smile,
He, a mail-patch would pilage,
And we can never keep beer around, while
Boyd Troxel's in the village.

Jake is the worst one of the three,
And from his town should go forth,
A weather prophet, 'tis said, is he,
A guesser and a—etc.

Miss Mary Peoples, of Chilli-cothe, was the guest of Mrs. Elizabeth Finerock, Monday.

David Flowers passed up our valley recently.

Mrs. Clint Caves was called to Lancaster, one day last week, to attend the funeral of her grandfather.

James Stump was seen mixing mud on our pikes Monday morning. Messrs. Oliver and Emanuel Ogg were the Sunday guests of George Finerock.

Mrs. John Caves is very ill at this writing.

Mrs. J. F. Elick is suffering very much from la grippe.

A very agreeable little surprise party was given Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. J. Carpenter in honor of Mr. Eber Inbody, the able young teacher of the Pine Grove school. Your Honorable Colleague was there and I must say that above all the evenings entertainment I enjoyed the elegant supper served by Mrs. Carpenter most. It was grand, and I wish to state that I did ample justice to it also, really I ate until I believe our hostess actually thought that I was some relation to "Old Si Hubbard."

Roy Starner says he can get home much sooner by going up Tar Hollow. Say, Roy, you want to keep your eyes open for those "yaller dogs."

TIP TOE.

So. Bloomingville

The banquet given by the Red Men and their families in their Wigwam on last Saturday night, March 9, was a grand success in every particular, over 100 people were fed and plenty left after supper was partaken of. Able addresses were delivered by Thomas Stevens, L. J. Sanford and others. At a late hour they adjourned hoping they would be permitted to have many more pleasant social meetings like this one.

Mr. Geo. Davis, an old soldier of the Civil War and a respected citizen of our community, on last Saturday, March 9, passed to the Great Beyond. The deceased was a member of the M. E. Church of Liberty Hill and a devout christian. Funeral was conducted by Rev. Bethen on last Monday. Interment at Liberty Hill Cemetery.

Mr. Thomas Fox and wife are both on the sick list at this writing.

Mr. Isaac Fox was a shopper at J. White's store last Saturday.

Mr. Henry Fauble is the champion fox trapper, he has caught eight this season, while Rev. Wm. Edwards and Charles Lindsey haven't caught one. Don't get discouraged boys, perseverance is gain.

Miss Lettie Fox's smiling face was seen in our valley Friday evening.

Anyone wishing to know the number of miles from W. F. Romels to Holiness Chapel inquire of Amy McClelland, Inis Romel and Ivy Stump and for further information ask Herm McGrady, Clarence Green and Jake Clark.

Mr. Boyd Goss was a visitor at Blackburns' last Friday and also Friday night.

We are glad to note that Allen Clapper is recovering from a siege of la grippe.

Anyone having an ear for music would do well to call at Joe White's place of business. Music every Saturday night.

Mrs. Nettie Good and Mrs. Libby Lantz were shoppers at South Perry last Saturday.

Miss Effie McGrady visited her parents from Friday evening till Sunday.

La grippe and muddy roads are the rage at present.

head into the creek and it went floating down the middle of the creek, and he could not catch it, so he borrowed a hat at Mr. Elick's to wear to the Grove, and he purchased a new cap at the Grove. Watch boys and hold your hats when you cross the creek.

Pleasant Hill

Mr. Michael Kline just returned home this morning from a visit with his aunt, and cousins, of Cantwell Cliffs.

Well boys, the Bible says let your light shine, but does not mean to let it shine in an old beer keg, as some done last Monday night.

Mr. Jacob Kline and wife, made a business trip to Logan last week.

Mr. Thomas Kline, of this place, has been working for Mrs. Emmie H. Tidd.

Mr. Kline is going to Lancaster to finish up in shorthand, and typewriting. Leaves Monday. Wish you success Mr. Kline.

Mr. Tom Woltz made a flying trip over the hill. What is your hurry Tom. I have very urgent business down Buck Run. Tom takes a near cut to Mr. Tompkins.

Wish you success Mr. Woltz.

Mr. Jacob Kline called on his sister, Saturday.

Mr. Lewis Hensel and Vern Dupler, moved their saw-mill close to Rockbridge, on the farm of Mr. G. W. Dupler.

Klondike correspondent, I think you are mistaken about Rev. Edwards, and Professor Kline, going fox hunting, for it was the Sabbath.

Mr. George Baley, that little off sawed Dutchman, called on his cousin, Mr. Tommy Kline, Sunday.

Wheat is looking fine in this neighborhood.
Well as news is scarce, I will ring off.

Legal Notice.

Elmer A. Dawson, whose residence is unknown, will take notice that on the 7th day of March, A. D. 1907, Wilber A. Williamson, Executor of William G. Dawson, deceased, filed his petition in the Common Pleas Court, Hocking County, Ohio, in case No. 889, against the above named defendant and Ella Dawson, praying for an accounting and foreclosure of a mortgage made by the said Elmer A. Dawson and Ella Dawson to plaintiff, as such executor, on the following premises, situate in the County of Hocking, in the State of Ohio and in the Village of Laurelville and known as Lot number eight (8) of said village as set forth in the Records of the Recorder of Hocking County, Ohio, said mortgage was given to secure the balance of the purchase money upon the sale of said Lot by plaintiff to the defendant, Elmer A. Dawson, in the sum of $100.00, and for taxes paid by plaintiff on said premises.
Said Elmer A. Dawson is required to answer on or before the 11th day of May, A. D. 1907, or judgment may be taken against him as prayed for in the petition.
